The Absolute Appetite collection is a vision made tangible by the German-born designer couple Ingrid Ruegamer and Oliver Szasz. Their aim is to create beautiful objects that add sensations, emotion and enjoyment to contemporary urban life. Absolute Appetite is a London-based interdisciplinary design studio.

Each product aims to provide a multitude of sensuous experiences and joy. Each has its own unique concept and tells its own little story. Absolute Appetite products are beautifully crafted, made with passion from the finest materials. They represent unconventional luxury. From the original concept to the final touches, each step is carried out with the greatest attention to detail. The Absolute Appetite approach represents a combination of physical experimentation with materials and exploration of shape. Great attention is focused on developing materials that age well, high quality making skills and meticulously finished surfaces. Each product is carefully inspected and is wrapped with love.

We are proud to offer Absolute Appetite products in our Squamish location and online store.
