The Curl lamp is a translucent shade, an illuminated sculpture constructed of recycled plastic, a surround for an energy efficient compact fluorescent bulb (CFB). The Curl lamp is designed by Josh Jakus of Berkley, California. Best known for his shape-shifting UM handbags, Josh is happiest creating things that are meant to be used, making experimental connections between form and function. Each lamp includes an 8 foot power cord with inline rocker switch, moulded plug and socket.

The 100% recycled HDPE plastic body is sustainably produced in the USA. FUZ products are designed for efficient manufacturing, achieving the highest yield for standard units of raw material and the reduction of energy-consuming machine time. Many FUZ products require a single punch from an industrial-sized cookie cutter to turn raw materials into finished products.

Luminaire is proud to bring you Josh Jakus' exquisite lighting sculptures.
